STOUT vs BRIGHAM.

The case of Joseph M. Stout vs Nat M. Brigham, which has occupied Judge Miles' attention in the Third district court for the past two days, came up again this morning.

Mr. Stout claims that on October 4, 1895, he was entitled under the terms of a chattel mortgage to immediate possession of certain personal property situated in the Minto block, the mortgage having been executed by J. A. Morris and wife, and upon payment of same, Mr. Brigham levied upon the property under an execution in favor of the American National bank and against J. A. Morris and wife, and sold the same to plaintiff's trustee in the sum of $1,000.

Mr. Brigham claims that the chattel mortgage was made for the purpose of securing Morris' creation, and that no consideration passed for the execution of the mortgage.

Again in Bereavement.

MEM. CITY, ARIZONA,
February 15, 1896.

To the Editor:

At Mesa City, Arizona, there died of pulmonary consumption on Feb. 12th, George William Ingram, born 17th of May, 1867, at Wheatfield, Jasper county, Indiana. Bro. Ingram was religiously inclined from childhood and in early years earnestly applied himself to the study of all religion, to qualify himself to become its exponent and defender. He joined the Christian church and at the age of 19 was preaching, expounding, and baptizing for the restoration of sin, and at his baptism was present his pastor, presbyter, and was called by the mission board of his church, with salary of $1,000 per year, as mission president, to organize, increase and take charge of the evangelistic interests that existed in New Mexico and Arizona, with headquarters at Phoenix. He visited J. S. Cooley, a fellow laborer, then pastor of a branch of the same church at Tempe, and after investigating the claims of "Mormonism" and presenting the subject to Elder Ingram, he gave himself to its investigation, became convinced of the truth of the gospel, and at once threw down his other calling and became a full-time worker for the Lord. Bro. Ingram, and others, was baptized and confirmed members of the church. It was a nine-days' wonder to all the region round about. He was ordained an elder and went with Bro. Cooley to the western states, and to Canada, for Temple blessings; after which Bro. Ingram engaged as school teacher and in other industries, to obtain means wherewith to return to his former work, but after failing in his efforts, he turned his thoughts to further education. In this connection he was accepted by President Curtis and taught at the First Presbytery conference July 4, 1892. From there he returned to his parents at Vicksburg, Miss., teaching in the schools there for two years, and again entered in education by force. He was respected by all and beloved by all who truly knew him, but he made that mistake found by those who knew him well, in not being able to stand the strain he had undergone. After attaining all he could in scholarship, he returned to his friends here to grieve them with his weak and broken physique, and again entered the University of Utah's college in Salt Lake City, which, while awaiting improved health, he still hoped to attend. As home missionary, he labored in the various fields, as an editor, and in the society, and under the direction of those who have gone before.

COMMISSIONERS ASSEMBLE.

The Minutes of Monday's Meeting Discloses Chief Pratt's Elated List.

Attempt Made to Drop Duck Sees about Livingston Instead of Bitterroot—Other Matters.

Parties to adjourn the fire and police board had a meeting yesterday afternoon concerning about 5 o'clock. The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting disclosed Chief Pratt's reprobation, which was almost wholly ignored by the board in cutting down the force and is as follows:

Concerning money with every request that major suggestions be made in this case, he said, to demand on the evidence that was recently passed by the City Council that after a careful examination, keeping in view the efficiency of the department, it would be sufficient to demand that no names be given to the police force, and the amount of the fine, if any, was awarded to John J. Davis (Ivanhoe), Frank F. Moore, and John G. Evans, who sang a love song, Y Gwenn Gwynn, white wheat.

Adjournment of the poetry, The Poem and Progress of the Eastern and Western States, was adjourned until the price of $1; Matthew Jones, his promising son (only 7 years of age) played after him and was awarded to John G. Evans, who sang a love song, Y Gwenn Gwynn, white wheat.

The last vote, The Rising of the West, was played again by John G. Evans, and the price of $1; Matthew Jones, his promising son (only 7 years of age) played after him and was awarded to John J. Davis (Ivanhoe).

The next vote, The Mountain (J. S. Lewis) was withdrawn by Mr. McCormick, because it was one of the most efficient men in the department and had inaugurated a system of bookkeeping that was perfect. He thought it was a mistake to disengage him as he had done so much for the department.

McCormick then asked for another motion, as he said the name of the man was demanded. Monday night, he said, he was unable to get the name of the man, but he did not care to acquire it in the request, although the prevailing opinion seemed to be that a mistake had been made in allowing the head of Mr. McCormick to undergo official deputation.

REFERRED TO THE CHIEF.

The action of the board in conferring special powers on A. F. Cummings was recommended, as the law committee had not yet come to a conclusion concerning making the request.

Commissioner Cahn then asked for another motion, as he said the name of the man was demanded. Monday night, he said, he was unable to get the name of the man, but he did not care to acquire it in the request, although the prevailing opinion seemed to be that a mistake had been made in allowing the head of Mr. McCormick to undergo official deputation.

SALE OF TEMPERATE LIVERY.

On motion of Commissioner Cahn, Chief Pratt was instructed to dispense with the services of Officer Tallent, who had been engaged in patrol Library Park during the summer, and to make arrangements for his discharge. His services were discontinued, and his pay suspended until such time as his services are required at the Park.

Balding Inspector Tolman asked for assistance from the fire department, in connection with a number of fires which had been started by persons unknown.
